

GREAT WAR TAX BILL SENT TO PRESIDENT

Senate Adopts Conference Report Without Roll Call

Most of Criticism in Senate is on the Second Class Postage Increases—Smoot Asserts Many Publishers Will be Driven out of Business.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Congress tonight sent the great war tax bill to the president for his signature, the senate following the example of the house and adopting the conference report without a record vote. In the making four months, the measure levies more than two and a half billion dollars additional taxes.

As soon as the bill is engrossed and signed tomorrow by Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Clark, it will be sent to President Wilson, who is expected to sign it immediately.

Senate discussion today was brief, participated in by few members. Most of the criticism was on the second class postage increase.

The speedy action on the conference report raised members' hopes for adjournment of the war session by Saturday, or not later than next week. The administration sailors and soldiers' insurance bill, which has passed the house will be brought up tomorrow in the senate.

Its disposal in a few days is anticipated. The only other measure the leaders expect to put thru before adjournment is the eight billion dollar deficiency bill whose conferees expect to agree tomorrow and secure adoption of their report without perfunctory debate.

Finally drafted after one of the longest and most strenuous struggles in congressional history the revenue bill, which was passed by the house on May 23 and by the senate, after a month's debate, on September 10 draws principally on incomes and war excess profits. As passed by the house it totaled $1,866,000,000 and the senate raised it to $2,416,000,000. The conferees' draft increased the total assessment by about $750,000,000 over the house and $128,000,000 above the senate. The bill now is estimated to raise about $550,000,000 from incomes, corporate and individual, and about one billion dollars from war excess profits. Other major levies are $35,000,000 on tobacco; about $275,000,000 on liquors; $70,000,000 on first class mail; $40,000,000 on automobiles; $77,500,000 on freight transportation; $60,000,000 on passenger transportation; $32,000,000 from stamp taxes and $60,000,000 from amusement admissions.

Elimination of consumption taxes on sugar, tea, coffee and gas, electric and telephone service together with house taxes on 1916 incomes and a general ten per cent tariff levy were features of the evolution of the bill.

Both praise and criticism was given the conference report today in the senate. Senator Simmons, heading the senate conferees, in a two hours' explanation of the conference work said the bill had been decidedly improved, that he was unable to defend certain provisions insisted upon by the house conferees including the second-class mail and munitions taxes.

Senator Penrose ranking Republican conferee also said many objectionable features were included in conference compromises and that the bill might work individual injustices but that it had been improved in many respects. He said he would support the measure if only 80 per cent good.

Vigorous criticism of the bill particularly the second class postage provision was made by Senator Smoot. He said the senate bill had been harmed in conference. Many publishers he asserted would be driven out of business. He and other senators expressed hope that before the new second class rates become effective next July they will be repealed or modified.

The closing speech was made by Senator LaFollette, who reiterated his opposition to the small amount of taxation compared to large bond issues and his demands for greater taxation of wealth. He said he would defer until some time later "some observations he had intended on the bill and matters connected with it."

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

That extreme nervousness over approaching events pervades the German front in Flanders is indicated by the infantry attacks, the forces of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria daily are throwing against Field Marshal Haig's salient.

These attacks are being centered upon the apex of Haig's salient in the line which is pointing dangerously toward the Ostend-Lille railway, the ultimate gaining of which by the English, Scotch and Australian contingents would work sad havoc to the replenishing with supplies of the German line to the south from the naval bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge.

In storming waves of great strength the Germans have made valiant efforts to wrest from the British positions captured from them in the recent offensive, but everywhere, except at two small points they met with decisive repulse under the hurricane of fire which swept against them from guns of all calibre, strewing the ground with their dead or wounded. Numerous prisoners also have been taken by the British and to a man they have evinced gratification that they are safe from the inferno of bursting shells which the British, without cessation are pouring in upon the German holdings.

The big guns of the Germans have not been idle during the fighting, but their strength is in no wise comparable to that of the great array of cannon that Haig has set up for the purpose of pounding the German entrenchments for warding off attacks and for screening his infantrymen as they surge forward on new exploits. As yet there has been no indication that the British commander-in-chief has the situation worked out to a point where he is prepared to turn Joseph his infantry for another smash across no-man's land for further German held territory but doubtless from the great German activity this time is not far off.

Meanwhile the French and the Germans are engaged in violent artillery duels along the Aisne front and the Verdun sector in both of which regions General Petain's armies also have been forced to withstand and successfully, vicious attacks from the German crown prince especially near Craonne and Beaumont and between Hill 344 and Samogneux. Near Hill 344 the Germans entered a French position which later was re-captured in a counter-attack.

On the northern front in Russia in the region south of Riga the Russians are keeping up their offensive against the Germans. Following up their attacks of Sunday in which gains from 800 to 1,000 yards were made the Russians again have surged forward and beaten back the enemy for a distance of one mile south of the Kronenberg-Spital-Groundull sector. Quiet still prevails on the eastern front farther south and in Galicia and Roumania.

In Mesopotamia the British victory over the Turks at Ramadiah west of Bagdad was greater than at first reported. In addition to capturing the town, nearly 4,000 Turks were made prisoner and large numbers of guns and quantities of war stores were captured. Moreover, heavy casualties were inflicted on the Ottomans.

British and French airmen are continuing their raids against German positions behind the lines and the French aviators are carrying on further reprisals against German cities and towns for the bombardment of open French settlements. Large quantities of explosives have been dropped by French airmen on Stuttgart, Frankfurt-on-Maine and Treves while in conjunction with British aviators railway stations, airfields, munition depots and encampments have been effectually bombed.

THIRD CONTINGENT TO BEGIN MOVING

Movement of National Army Men Starts Today

Modification of Quota Plans Made Necessary Because of Conditions at the Sixteen Cantonnments—No Date for Second Call Decided Upon.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The third contingent of National Army men will begin moving tomorrow to the sixteen cantonnments where approximately one half of the 687,000 selected men called out by the president already have been mobilized.

Modification of previous quota plans was necessary because of the conditions at the cantonnments and the availability of equipment. Some cantonnments are much farther advanced than others and can accommodate a larger percentage of men.

Definite figures are still lacking as to the number of selected men to be transferred to the national guard, aviation service, medical corps or other branches of the army that will be filled up to war strength. It is certain, however, that the men remaining at the camps will not be sufficient to fill the sixteen army divisions at full strength.

Secretary Baker indicated today that no decision had been reached as to when a second call will be made. There are many deficiencies to be fitted up in the first draft, physical examination of the selected men by army doctors at the camps having expedited in many respects. There appears to be some evidence of undue leniency by the civilian doctors who examined the men in certain sections, probably due largely to the desire of the local boards to make a good showing in prompt filling of their quotas.

Decision of the war department on the suggestion that the remaining 7,000,000 registered men be examined immediately and classified for service in order that they may have knowledge of when to expect a call to the colors and arrange their affairs accordingly, awaits action by congress on the war deficiency bill. Funds to carry out the project are contained in that measure.

Secretary Baker said today that some 35 governors who have been asked if they believed it wise and expedient to proceed with the examination of all registered men only two had so opposed the plan. Those two did so on the ground that it would make too great a demand on the time of the examining boards, virtually all the members of which are serving without pay. The department, the secretary added had not reached a decision as to the wisdom of the plan and he indicated that none was to be expected until congress had shown its will in the matter.

HOG PRICES WILL BE CONSIDERED

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 2.—Measures to stimulate production and the question of a guaranteed minimum price on hogs to the producer will be considered at a conference here tomorrow between breeders from the principal hog breeding district of the north—Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri.

The conference was called by Henry C. Wallace, farm publisher, Des Moines, member of the livestock committee of the national defense council. The chief speaker will be Gifford Pinchot, national conservation leader. The breeders contend that if pork is not to soar to famine prices next year, a reasonable profit above the cost of production must be guaranteed by the government.

STATE SENATOR NAMED AS MAN HIGHER UP

Edwin Vares Name Mentioned in Philadelphia Political Feud.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—State Senator Edwin Vares was today named as the man higher up who was to furnish the money to bring gunmen from New York for election work in the fifth ward here on primary day, Sept. 19, when a policeman was killed. Congressman William S. Vares, the senator's brother, was named as giving assurance that the money would be forthcoming from Isaac Deutsch, the man who is alleged to have engaged the gangsters.

The Vares brothers, who have made millions in city contracts were brought into the case thru the testimony of Samuel G. Maloney, at a hearing given by Mayor Thomas B. Smith, and eight others charged with conspiracy to murder and other crimes in connection with the fifth ward killing. Altogether seventeen men are under arrest here and in New York in connection with the political feud. Maloney, a former Republican factional leader in the fifth ward was the star witness at the hearing.

Tonight Senator Vares who, with his brother, the congressman is the leader of the faction opposed to that headed by United States Senator James P. McNichol in this city, gave out a statement in which he said that everything Maloney swore to so far as it concerned the Vares was an "absolute lie." The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

GOVERNOR LOWDEN ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Urges Citizens of Illinois to Subscribe to Second Liberty Loan.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—Declaring that "if we fail in this war it doesn't matter much how we invest our money now," Governor F. O. Lowden in a proclamation today urged Illinois citizens to subscribe liberally to the second liberty loan.

"This is a war to establish the right of people to govern themselves," the proclamation says. "It is therefore a people's war. But a people cannot govern itself successfully unless it is willing to finance a war waged upon it by military autocracy. Democracy is doomed unless it has the vitality to put forth its resources in support of the war in which its right to exist is challenged. The people therefore, owe it to their country to subscribe as liberally to liberty bonds as their means permit."

In addition let the owners of factories and farms and of all other forms of property, reflect that if we prevail in this war the liberty loan bonds which they shall have bought will be the best investment they have made during this time. If we should fail in this war, it doesn't matter much how we invest our money now."

URGES GERMANIZATION TEST FOR SEED WHEAT

Reports Coming to State Department of Agriculture Indicate that Wheat Germination Percentage is Below Average.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—With the winter wheat seeding season at hand and emphasis laid on a bumper crop for Illinois, in 1918, the state department of agriculture is urging wheat growers to make a germination test of their seed wheat, and, if the test is low, to put on enough wheat to make up the deficiency or get a higher grade of wheat.

Reports coming to Director of Agriculture Charles Adkins indicate that the wheat germination percentage in many sections of the state is below the average.

Figures from the agricultural experiment station of the state university at Urbana indicate that only forty per cent of some varieties of wheat will germinate. Other varieties, however, show a percentage of 90, it was stated.

Other stations in Illinois reported practically the same ratios, it was announced.

OPERATORS AND MINERS REACH FULL AGREEMENT

Coal Men Hold Successful Meeting in Washington

Further Discussion Today Will Decide Length of Time New Contract Will Run—Miners are Seeking a Two Year Contract.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Coal operators and miners of the central competitive field, meeting here to discuss a readjustment of wage scales, reached a full agreement tonight as to the amount of increase to be given. They will discuss further tomorrow the length of time the new contract will run.

Pick and machine miners, who demanded 15 cents a ton increase in pay will get ten cents, and unskilled labor, which sought a wage raise of $1.90 a day, will get $1.50. Yardage and dead work will be paid for on a basis of a straight twenty per cent increase.

The wage increases were granted by the operators' contingent of their absorption in higher coal prices which they expect the fuel administration to give them on presentation next week, of their cost of production figures.

The miners are seeking a contract for two years, but the operators insist on a provision for its termination sixty days after the end of the war. Miners' representatives said tonight they would not yield on this point. Provisions will be inserted in the contract to prevent either side from breaking it for any cause. This was demanded by the operators because the miners in asking the present increases, are ignoring a contract signed last April.

At the beginning of the conference a week ago the miners demanded 15 cents a ton increase in pick and machine mining; a twenty per cent increase in pay for yardage and dead work and a flat increase of $1.90 a day for day labor. The operators refused to meet the demands and offered today five cents for pick and machine mining; a twenty per cent and lower increase for yardage and a $1 raise for day labor. A final scale adopted came as a counter proposal from the miners.

Coal mine wages thruout the country are based on the central field scale, and if today's agreement is ratified wages will be raised accordingly in other districts.

Operators of the central field are asking the fuel administration for increase of about 50 cents a ton in the price fixed for coal at the mines in recent order by President Wilson. Many mines they insist will be forced to shut down unless prices are revised. Already Dr. Garfield, the fuel administrator, has granted increases in outlying districts where, for the most part, coal veins are thin, making the cost of operation higher.

I. W. W. INDICTMENTS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Two More Arrests of Members of Organization are Reported

Purpose of the Society Was to Abolish "Capitalist" Class and Gain Control of All Property By Unlawful and forcible Means.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Two more arrests of members of the Industrial Workers of the World for whom the federal government officials have been looking since their indictment a week ago were reported today. They were Grover H. Perry, taken in Salt Lake City and John Ahleen arrested in Minneapolis.

Copies of the indictments returned by the grand jury was made public today. It describes the organization known as the I. W. W. as composed of 200,000 persons, mostly laborers in the industries necessary to the existence and welfare of the people of the United States—Transportation, mining, stock raising, canning, lumbering, farming, livestock, fruit, vegetable and cotton raising.

The indictment further defines members of the organization as defining themselves as the workers and the "proletariat", and describing all other classes of society as "capitalist", the "capitalistic class", the "master class", the "ruling class", the "exploiters of the workers", the "bourgeois", and "parasites".

The purpose of the organization, the indictment charges, was to abolish the latter classes and to gain for the former class control and ownership of all property, such abolition to be accomplished, not by political action or with regard to right or wrong, but by the continual and persistent use and employment of unlawful and forcible means and methods, involving threats, assaults, injuries, intimidations, and murders upon the persons and the injury and destruction of property of the other classes. The forcible resistance to the execution of all laws and finally, the forcible revolutionary overthrow of all existing governmental authority in the United States.

The means of destroying property was described within I. W. K. circles continues the indictment as sabotage, "direct action", "working on the job", "wearing the wooden shoes", "working the sab-cat" and "slowing down tactics".

It was planned to accompany all strikes and was to be used in reckless and utter disregard of the rights of all persons not members and especially the rights of the United States to execute its laws.

The plans were designed particularly to "take advantage of the opportunity presented by the desire and necessity of the United States expeditiously and successfully to carry on its war and by the consequent necessity for all laborers to perform the tasks faithfully."

The persons named in the indictments sought to achieve the purposes of the organization it says, "thru interference with the production and manufacture of munitions, ships' fuel, subsistence, supplies, clothing, shelter, equipment necessary for the military and naval forces of the United States in carrying on the war and has interfered with transportation and discouraged abstracted and hindered the prosecution of the war by requiring the members of the organization available for duty in military and naval forces to fail to register and to refuse to submit to registration and draft, and to cite others so to fail, notwithstanding the cowardice of such failure."

"Always there is the bright side.

PROTECT YOUR OWN HOUSEHOLD.

It is a wise thing to prevent rather than take a risk to extinguish a fire which is likely to occur on your premises by reason of defective flues,
stoves and furnaces which have been
in use but little during the summer.
The Fire Marshal advises property owners to have their heating apparatus and flues put in good safe condition before using. Your own interest and that of your neighbor demands careful attention to this particular matter now.

If you want to do your bit in accord with the spirit of the times the way to help is at hand. You can render public service and also protect your own household.

A DIFFERENCE OF SPIRIT.

The Galesburg Republican-Register
comments upon the difference in the spirit which was apparent at the farm congress in Peoria last week
by a comparison with the spirit
shown at the meeting of the non-partisan league in Minneapolis. In the league meeting many of the speakers were sharply critical of the government and found all kinds of fault with government price regulation, and complained of unfair treatment. The league seems to think that a price of $2 for wheat was ruinous.

To the credit of Illinoisians be it said that at Peoria the farmers were loyal and patriotic in spirit and manifested an entire willingness to co-operate with the government in the present situation and endeavor to do their full part. The farmers
made this unequivocal statement:
"We pledge the richness of our fields,
the wealth of our flocks and if need
come, the support of our firesides."

WHEN WILL IT ALL END?

Nobody's guess regarding the duration of the war has behind it any conclusive information. The Teutonic peoples are still talking of peace before the beginning of 1918. The French and English are hoping for it in the autumn
of 1918, just a year hence. The more soberminded onlookers are not optimistic enough to feel any confidence

whatever and see no signs of an approaching end of the war. The Allied leaders have no formula except that of attrition although they continue to talk somewhat of starving Germany out even as they were talking three years ago. The greatest mistake of the war was England's original embargo, denying neutral
rights on the plea that the war
could be ended by keeping food from Germany. If the neutrals had asserted their rights with vigor and shown England her errors, the German submarine policy could not have been entered upon and the war
could have been ended before this time with Germany baffled in all her essential aims. But history was not to be made that way; and now it must be worked out on the lines laid down. Much will depend upon the things that may be done during the winter months having a bearing upon the situation as it will be next May. Instead therefore of now making predictions about the duration of the war we may merely suggest that those friends and neighbors who have different opinions
might find it interesting to write down their present views and put them in sealed envelopes to be opened on May 1, 1918.—Review of Reviews.

FOOLING THE PEOPLE.

It certainly behooves the patriotic citizens of this country, both men
and women, to consider every story
that comes to their ears which may
in any way cast reflection upon the government or upon American institutions. It will be well to consider all stories for that matter, in the light of possibility and plausibility.
In certain parts of the country some weeks since stories were circulated
in rural precincts, that a little later
the government expected to buy up
all the eggs in the country at a price of $1.50 a dozen. In some other farming precincts there were stories
of other intended purchases by the government at prices wholly beyond reason. There were some bulle-balle people who believed these stories,
and in the south where the egg myth
was evolved the result was a considerable loss of eggs, as farmers stored them for weeks, looking for the reported advance in price. That story was traced to sympathizers
with the German government, who,
in this clandestine way sought to
somewhat lessen the available supply
of food.

Most stories of this kind circulated have had reference to food supplies. More recently the story has been traveling about in some states
that the government takes possession of the garments that women
kni so carefully and instead of transmitting them to soldiers sells them and uses the money. In some instances the stories have received such credence that women have stopped knitting.

Now just a little thought on the part of men and women, a little care
in considering those things which are reasonable and plausible, will show when such stories are preposterous. These indeed are the days when patriots must be all eyes and ears and see to it that they are not in any way deluded by the enemies

from abroad or the sympathizers at home.

WHY IS AMERICA AT WAR?

Historian says offenses of George III were mild, compared to those of the Kaiser's government.

By James A. Woodburn, Indiana University.
Have you ever read the indictments brought by our fathers in the Declaration of Independence against George III? There were some charges and most of them were justified against that Stupid German king. But George did very little compared with what the Kaiser's government has done against the American people. To prove it let the facts be submitted to a candid
world:

It has sunk our ships without warning and unlawfully destroyed
the lives of our peaceful citizens on
the high seas;

It is carrying on against us operations to complete the works of death,
desolation and tyranny already begun with circumstances of cruelty
and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy a civilized nation;

It has filled our land with spies,
and excited domestic insurrections
and disorder among us;

It has intrigued with Mexico and Japan to attack us, and has participated in our territory among them, at a time when we are still assured
of its unshaken friendliness.

This German government has poisoned the minds of a once liberty-loving people by glorifying "blood
and iron;"

It has violated sworn treaties as
"scraps of paper;"

It has waged war with unprecedented barbarity, employing weapons and methods hitherto unknown
among civilized nations;

It has ravished, enslaved, plundered and starved the non-combatant population of Belgium, Poland
and Northern France with an efficiency of heartlessness unknown
since Attila the Hun;

It has bombarded defenseless
towns from the air, and its pirate
submarines have ruthlessly done
death multitudes of unoffending
men, women and children.

It is impossible to live in peace with a government like that. Its guilty deeds have created a state of war. We have entered upon this war to curb this mad power. To the successful prosecution of that war
we have pledged to one another our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

A SAD BUSINESS
I shoot my Germans sadly; I do not butcher gladly, but with poignant grief; I hate to meet a stranger, and, while my life's in danger,
convert him into beef. I don't enjoy my slaying; much rather I'd
be having, or milking brindled cows;
but forth I go a-scooting to kill the foes by shooting and leave some widowed fraus. In tales of blood and thunder the hero is a wonder who fairly lusts for gore; in every shilling thriller the soldier is a killer who seeks for victims more. But is there any mortal this side the red
hot portal who truly loves the fray,
who does not shrink and shiver
when shooting lights or liver from some unlucky jay? If any gent is killing because he's glad and willing to leave dead men behind, he may be some one's hero; with me he's down to zero—I do not like his kind.
Not gaily, but with sorrow some rusty nails I borrow and load my ancient gun, not smilingly, but weeping,
I am to ambush creeping to pot the passing Hun.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS CONFER WITH ENGINEER

Will Delay Oiling Murrayville Road Until Spring—Plan Re-Oiling for Chapin Road.

Fred Terrant, district engineer for the Illinois highway commission, was in Jacksonville yesterday for a conference with the county commissioners. In company with the commissioners and W. H. Cocking, Mr. Terrant made an inspection of the work which is in progress on the Murrayville road. He also made an inspection of the Chapin road. After a conference it was decided by the county board that the oiling for the Murrayville road will be delayed until next spring and that the Chapin highway will be re-oiled as soon as material can be secured by Mr. Cocking.

The reason for this decision is the experience of the state board that the effects from oiling a newly worked road are not as lasting as if the oiling is applied some months after the road grading has been completed. The decision to oil the Chapin road was made because an inspection of the road showed quite clearly that unless oiling is done soon that much of the money spent for grading and drainage will be lost. It was the opinion of all of the men that the road should be oiled this fall in order to preserve the improvement already made there.

FARM NOTES

To Attend Conference With Hoover.

Frank E. Drury received a telegram yesterday from Henry Wallace of Wallace's Farmer asking him to attend a conference with Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, at Waterloo, Iowa. This conference has been arranged so that Mr. Hoover may meet some of the principal hog raisers in Illinois, Iowa and adjacent territory. Various problems relating to the feeding and marketing of hogs are to be discussed. Mr. Drury was invited to the conference because he has for a number of years had the reputation of being one of the largest operators in the central west in this department of animal husbandry.

Seed Corn.

The Wallace Farmer says: The saving of the seed corn is rather a hackneyed subject, but one of more than usual importance this year. In ordinary years, we have quite a supply of old corn in the cribs, which may, in case of need, be drawn upon for seed. There is not much old corn in the country this year.

Practically all of our seed corn must be saved from the growing crop. The lateness of the corn and the imminent danger of frost make it doubly important that an abundant supply of good seed should be saved promptly. The best way to do this is to select it in the field, taking pains to select early-maturing corn. Hang it in a place where there will be free circulation of air. The driveway of the barn, or under a shed should prove a satisfactory place.

Many careful seed corn men think that the seed should be dried out enough to avoid danger of injury when subjected to artificial heat.

The important thing is to get at this business right away, and save two or three times as much as is likely to be needed for next year. There are always a large number of farmers who neglect saving seed for themselves, and who must buy from others. It will not do to take any chances of a shortage of seed next spring. Any surplus can be sold at a price which will more than cover the labor and cost of selecting it now and saving it carefully thru the winter.

Anticipate frost damage by getting in the seed corn just as soon as it is fit to gather.

Buy Your Winter Potatoes Now. Illinois is not rated as a potato growing state. But because of the campaign for increased planting last Spring, and because the season has been favorable, the State has perhaps the largest crop it has ever grown.

Now that they are grown, not a potato should be allowed to go to waste. The government is promoting a movement for the storage of potatoes in homes. Illinois can set the example with its own crop. Potato storage is barred to flat dwellers in cities, of course. But for all other homes, especially homes in the villages and towns where there are cellars, it is easy. The place in which they are stored must be cool, dry, dark and well ventilated, and that is all.

It used to be that every family had its potato bin. More and more people have come to depend upon the grocer, buying a peck or less at a time. The government is trying to revive the old custom.

Buy your potatoes now and store them for the winter, the government urges. Perhaps you have a neighbor, or know someone in the country, who has more than he needs. If there is no other way, go to the grocer and buy in barrel lots. Put them in your cellar, prevent waste, and by using more potatoes effect a saving in wheat and meat—the two things that will be hardest to get before the winter is over.

DISTRICT NURSES MET AT MAPLE CREST

Listened to Addresses on Nervous Disease Treatment by Dr. Norbury and Dr. Dollear—Red Cross Committee Met at Night.

District No. 13 of the Illinois district association of graduate nurses held a meeting in Jacksonville Tuesday. The session was held at Maplecrest sanatorium and the visiting nurses were received by Dr. F. P. Norbury and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dollear. At the session Dr. Norbury made an address on rest and the treatment of mental and nervous diseases and Dr. Dollear's theme was hydro-therapy and the treatment of mental and nervous diseases. Following these addresses and some discussion the visiting nurses were taken for an inspection tour all thru the departments of the sanatorium and they found it just as all other visitors have—perfect in service and appointments.

Early in the afternoon altho no previous invitation had been extended, the visitors were entertained at dinner and they were of one mind that it was a beautifully served dinner. Altogether the nurses found their visit in Jacksonville Tuesday socially delightful and very beneficial to them in their work. In the evening the committee on Red Cross nursing service for districts 13, 14, 15 and 16, which embraces the large part of southern Illinois, held a meeting at 200 Ayers National Bank building. At this meeting various matters of routine business were transacted and consideration was given to some applications. There were about thirty five nurses present for the day's session. Among the visitors were: Decatur, Miss Andrews; Concord, Mrs. Brainer; Murrayville, Miss Rimbey; Springfield, Misses Dalbey, Tittman, Lawrence, Lesser, Bolz, Wallace, Alvey, Warner, Steinwart, Sherpeltz, Jamison and Heitman.

ELMO COULTAS BADLY INJURED IN EXPLOSION

Parents of Winchester Boy Notified of Accident—Funeral of Clarence Dahman—Big Barn Burned—Scott County News Notes.

Winchester, Ill., Oct. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Coultas received a message Tuesday evening stating that their son Elmo had been dangerously injured by the explosion of a motorcycle gasoline tank at Camp Park, near Little Rock, Ark. The message requested the parents to come to the camp at once. No further particulars of the accident were given in the telegram and no details of just how badly the young man was hurt. It is the sincere hope of the young man's many friends in Scott and Morgan counties that the accident will not prove to be serious.

Barn Destroyed By Fire
William Roach, living about twelve miles northwest of Winchester, was so unfortunate last Sunday night, as to have his barn totally destroyed by fire. There were nine horses and one colt burned to death. One new Chevrolet automobile, 350 bales of straw, besides cement, nails and tools, which were stored in the barn in preparation of building a new corn crib, were burned. The fire was discovered at midnight and had gained such headway when finally reported that there was no chance of saving any of the animals or other valuable property stored in the barn. Mr. Roach moved to his present location from near Sinclair last spring. It is not known just how much insurance was carried on the structure or whether any of the contents was insured. In any event it is most regrettable and Mr. Roach has many friends in the community who will sympathize with him in this great loss. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Community Music Program
Mrs. E. L. Kellogg of Kewanee, state chairman of the music department of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs was greeted by an appreciative audience Tuesday evening at the assembly room of the grade school building. She opened her program with a group of songs, "Joy of the Morning" by Harriett Ware, "Robin's Come" by Floy Little Bartlett, and "Spirit Flower" by Martin Stanton, were among the selections. Each number received hearty applause. Mrs. Kellogg has a very pleasing voice and charming manner. Her subject, "Community Music" brought out a number of interesting and helpful suggestions. She closed her lecture with another group of songs, especially for the children. "Slumber Song" and "Cuckoo Clock" were rendered. An encore Mrs. Kellogg sang "Kittens." Mrs. Leola Dahman very acceptably acted as accompanist.

Funeral Services for Clarence Dahman were held at the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The large auditorium and gallery of the church were filled with relatives and friends. The services were opened by the choir, which sang "In the Hour of Trial." Rev. W. R. Johnson offered prayer. Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith sang a duet. Rev. C. W. Caseley then read the obituary and followed with a very helpful sermon. After a short prayer and another hymn by the choir the services at the church were closed. The profusion of flowers were kindly cared for by Misses Mildred Burns, Louise Leach, Louise and Georgia Hamilton, Frances Coultas and Irene Glossop. The pall bearers were: Allen McCullough, Earl Claywell, John Pen-ton, Roy and Floyd Hamilton and Arthur Glossop. An automobile cortege accompanied the remains to Winchester cemetery where brief services were held and interment made.

"WAACS" ARE PRODUCT OF NEW WARFARE

Women's Auxiliary Army Corps Carries on Important Work—Lead Real Army Life—Popular With Male Branch of Army.

Boulogne, France, Sept. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The Waacs have ceased to be a novelty in this part of France. Waacs, be it known, is a time-saving designation for members of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps. Their neat khaki uniforms dot the cobbled street during working hours, and afterward, sprinkle the nearby country roads, frequently under masculine escort which indicates that they are popular with the male branch of the army.

The army has got so used to new developments that even the first appearance of the Waacs aroused but a passing sensation. Nevertheless they are in their way a curiosity, something really new in the history of soldiers and soldiering. These organized battalions of uniformed women for noncombatant duties are a direct product of the new warfare which is fought not only by the soldier and won not only in the field. This army life which the Waacs are leading is real army life, under real army discipline, in real army barracks, and it will leave its mark on the women who have lived it, just as truly as army life will leave its mark for years upon the manhood of England and America.

During the first month or two of her life here the Waac suffers seriously from homesickness. Considering her newness to barrack conditions, this is not to be wondered at. There is none of the privacy of the home in barracks, and close quarters with seven or more to a bed room, is not suited to every temperament. For most girls fresh from the comforts of home, there is a shakedown process which frequently requires several weeks before the ache of home sickness is conquered and the individual adapts herself to the small discomforts of camp life and atmosphere.

The work of the Waacs has been a success; their members are steadily increasing, and they are learning to fight off the blues, even on those long rainy evenings which will soon begin to come far too frequently, by games and concerts and lectures and studies.

DANIELS COMMENDS SEAMEN.
Washington, Oct. 2.—For gallantry in rescuing persons from drowning, Secretary Daniels has commended Seamen Arthur Otis Radcliff, of Brownsville, Ill., and Fireman James R. McGregor, of Lee, Mass.

Radcliff saved a child who had fallen overboard from a tug, and McGregor drove into the bay at Newport, R. I., at night to rescue an apprentice seaman.

I was a great sufferer for several years from stomach and nerve trouble, with pain so that I was unable to work most of the time, without a great deal of suffering. After having tried other methods, I consulted Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, and took a course of his treatment. Am now thoroughly cured and able to work hard and enjoy life.

John Tegeder, Meredosia, Ill.

Miss Charlotte Doyle expects to leave Thursday evening for Washington, D. C., where she will take a position in the war department.

THE GERMAN PROBLEM

Editor Journal:

I have often wondered how it is possible for any German-American or sympathizer for the Fatherland at this time, or any other time, for that matter. All of the older set came to this land of the free and the blessed land of opportunities to better their condition and to get away from the accursed spirit of military slavery and Prussian tyranny. Soon after the Revolution, in 1849 they came to this country by the thousands and tens of thousands, liberty loving people of Germany who have proved loyal and true to the land of their adoption and a more honest or thrifty people never came to the shores of the new world.

Here they have grown rich and powerful in all lines of endeavor and have played an important part in shaping the destinies of the nation and during the darkest hours of the slaveholders' rebellion, when the very life of the republic hung in the balance, they rallied to its defense by unnumbered thousands and fought the armed hosts of treason to the death, and were ready to follow them into hell, if necessary, to save the Union from destruction.

Many Great Leaders Were Germans

Some of our great leaders were natives of Germany. There was Carl Schurz, who rose to the rank of major-general of volunteers, whose shining blade flashed at Chancellorsville and again at Gettysburg, when the rebel hosts were defeated and driven from northern soil. And Major-General Peter J. Osterhaus, who commanded the old 15th Army Corps in the march to the sea and took a prominent part in the battle above the clouds on Lookout Mountain, and helped to win a victory that gave us Chattanooga, the key to the confederacy and the open door that led to the capture of Atlanta and made Sherman's march to the sea possible. And the thousands of Germans who fought "Sigel" at Pea Ridge and other thousands fought with him in the great campaigns in Virginia. And there were Steinwehr, Schneck, Blenker, Schimmelfeng, and many other gallant German leaders who helped to effectually crush the hydra-headed monster of treason and rebellion.

There were regiments, brigades and divisions composed almost solely of Germans in the great crusade for human liberty under the emancipation banner of the immortal Lincoln. Col. Fred Hecker of Belleville raised the 24th Illinois Infantry, early in the struggle and later the 82nd Illinois Infantry, both regiments being composed almost entirely of Germans born in Germany and in America. It was the Germans who saved Missouri to the Union when the traitors of St. Louis tried to seize the U. S. arsenal at that place early in the game. One of the participants of that dramatic episode is with us today, and his name is Captain John A. Schaub of the 17th Mo. Volunteers, who has as fine a record as any man who ever marched and kept step to the music of the Union in the days that tried men's souls. These German soldiers fought that all men might be free and that all might rest secure beneath the flag that their valor helped to bring back from the thousand battle fields, untarnished and without the loss of a single star.

In view of all this how can any of that race, who helped to strike the shackles from 4,000,000 bondmen, be in sympathy with the Fatherland, as now constituted and controlled by the kaiser, who is trying to Prussianize the world by placing it under a military slavery more despotic and cruel than the black slavery which helped to crush in this land when a little more than a half century ago?

How can they sympathize with the fatherland without also sympathizing with those who are feeding its population into the hell's hopper of war by the million?

Consistency Not Jewel.

And it is only too true that some of this class of our citizens are in sympathy with the spirit that forced their fathers and forefathers to seek safety and refuge in land where all men are free, and all have equal opportunities under a government for, and by, the consent of the governed? Sometimes consistency is a jewel; and sometimes it is not. This is a case where it is not. I desire to call attention to a case—a local case, if you please—to illustrate the curse of Prussian military slavery of years ago, and it is the same today, only worse if possible than it was then. Mr. Henry Engel, a native of Prussia, who was in business on West State street in the room now occupied by his son. He was a native of Munich, Bavaria, and while a young man was conscripted and forced into the German army against his will. Finally opportunity came and he fled from this military devil of the Fatherland and came to this country and to Jacksonville where he took out naturalization papers and became a full fledged American citizen.

He prospered in business and later made a visit back to the old German home. As soon as his feet touched the shores of this beloved old Fatherland the military authorities nipped him and forced him back into the army, albeit he was an American citizen and entitled to the protection of the flag. And the flag did protect him, for at the demand of the secretary of state of the United States he was released and returned to his home in this city where he died several years ago. This same Prussian tyranny that laid its mailed fist on Henry Engel is trying to dominate the world today and bring it to the feet of the kaiser who would rule the world with or without the consent of God.

If there is a class that should affix the "pro" to any of our cosmopolitan population it is the German element and it ought to be pro-American, to the core with the hyphen relegated to the shades of everlasting oblivion. Cannot Afford to Be Disloyal

The Germans helped to save the country, and even if they felt disposed to be disloyal at this time they could not afford to be against the government, for all their hopes of future years rest on the prosperity of the American republic whose union was sealed by the blood of the thousands who fought and fell in the holy cause of freedom which is dear to every citizen.

In all this broad land where the mystic chord of memory stretches to the lowly grave of every man who perished that the oppressed of all nations might rest secure beneath the shining folds of Old Glory, which represents all that is best in human life and on which is based the hopes of the millions of today and the countless millions yet to come.

"Who sees that flag and does not feel His heart beat warm with patriotic pride,
For it he'd grasp the freeman's steel And die a martyr by its side."
J. M. Swales.

WOMEN DO MEN'S WORK IN ENGLAND

London Sept. — One million two hundred and fifty-six thousand women are today doing work in England which was done formerly by men who have joined the army or been set free for other forms of war service. The figures are taken from the latest official report of the Industrial Branch of the Board of Trade.

Replacement of men by women has been most successful, says the report, in Government service, in banking, and in transportation. In government establishments, aside from the Civil Service and local government, the number of women employed prior to the war was 2,000; now it is 193,000. In the Civil Service and local government, when employees have increased by 146,000 and 124,000 men have been replaced.

The Board of Trade reports show that there are now 4,538,000 women and girls employed in the classified trades under its jurisdiction. This does not include domestic servants, women employed in small workshops, and women employed on farms; nor does it include women at work in military, naval, and Red Cross hospitals. It is estimated, therefore, that the total number of women employed in all occupations in England today is well over 5,000,000.

VILLAGE IS NOW MUNITION CENTER

A Village in Middlesex, England, Sept. — There is a small village in this county in pre-war days was a typical sleepy English rest resort but which has now grown into a big munition center. This is frequently visited by members of the government and the royal family, particularly Princess Mary who is very popular with the workers. She attends the canteen two or three days most weeks and may be seen with sleeve turned up working away smilingly attending to the needs of the hungry workers and clearing up after meal times.

It is at her own wish that no unnecessary fuss is made and that she is allowed to do this work without special recognition from the other helpers.

DAVID WARFIELD AT THE GRAND

The hearts of countless theatre-goers will be gladdened by the welcome announcement that David Belasco will present America's most popular actor, David Warfield, at the Grand Opera House for one performance, on Thursday night, October 4th, in a revival of his famous success, "The Music Master." The story of this play, a most beautiful and inspiring one, is too well known to bear repeating, other than to relate that it is the romance of a lovable old musician, of the wife of whom he has just lost, and of the child for whom he is longing. It is impossible to convey by the means of words the many fine touches of human nature with which Mr. Warfield illumines the role of Anton Von Barwig. It is a character study that stands out as one of the most remarkable achievements in the history of the American stage. With the same delicacy of touch that the painter uses in giving warmth and light and color to his canvas, or the sculptor in hewing the rough stone into the finished marble, does this great artist gradually reveal the beautiful character of the old professor and his love for those with whom he comes in contact. Like a grand symphony it contains not a false note, but finds a responsive chord in the hearts of every hearer.

TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF VON HINDENBURG

Extensive Preparations Being Made for Observance of 70th Anniversary of Chief of Staff of German Army.

London, Oct. 2.—Recent advices from Berlin tell of the elaborate preparations making throughout Germany for the celebrations to be held today in honor of the 70th anniversary of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the chief of staff of the German army and the most successful of the Teuton commanders in the present war. In Berlin and other of the principal cities of the empire the day is to be observed in a manner that will as nearly approach a popular fête day as is possible under existing conditions. Exercises appropriate to the occasion are to be held in all the schools, when the pupils will be told of the services that Von Hindenburg has rendered to the Fatherland. Popular subscriptions are to be taken up in aid of the Hindenburg fund for the sick and wounded. That the kaiser will mark the occasion by bestowal of high honors on the man who has proved the ablest of his military commanders is regarded as a foregone conclusion, although the exact nature of these honors has not been disclosed.

Won Fame at Advanced Age
Von Hindenburg, like Joffre and several other of the greatest commanders in the present war, has won his fame at an age at which Americans are inclined to "scrap" their army and navy officers as no longer capable of active service. He was in his 67th year when called from retirement to take command of the German armies opposing the Russian invasion in East Prussia. At that time the world at large was unfamiliar with the very name of Hindenburg. Even to the German public his name was little known, although in the army there were many veteran officers who knew and esteemed him.

The credit for discovering Hindenburg is said to be the kaiser's due, and if such is the fact there was a certain magnanimity in the discovery. The story goes that Hindenburg's retirement in 1911 was accelerated by his bluntness of speech and manner, he having at the close of summer maneuvers, in which he hypothetically defeated the kaiser, told the latter that had it been real war he would have driven him into the Baltic. However, when the Russians in 1914 were driving straight towards Berlin and it became necessary to give the command on the eastern front to a man who was thoroughly familiar with that section, the kaiser was more than willing to let bygones be bygones.

Successes are Pronounced.
Hindenburg's successes have been the most pronounced of any of the German commanders. In east Prussia he carried on a long campaign which was marked by several great victories for the German arms and in the end resulted in the driving of the Russians back across the frontier. In the Balkans, too, success crowned his work as commander of the Austrian German and Bulgarian forces against the Allies.

But Hindenburg has had his reverses, too. His drive at Warsaw failed of its immediate object, nor have his achievements in directing the campaign on the western front been such as to give additional lustre to his military reputation.

But if he accomplishes nothing else in the war Hindenburg's name will live in history as that of the man who saved east Prussia to Germany, when the loss of it would have meant the establishment of a Russian army on the high road to Berlin.

At the age of 70 years, Hindenburg is a reminder of the example set by Blucher to prove old men can do somewhat, and unlike Blucher, he is said to add to great activity coolness of head and clearness of vision.

MANY IN TRAINING AT GREAT LAKES STATION

Uncle Sam's School for Teaching of Seamanship and Allied Arts has Largest Enrollment of Any Institution in America—Faculty Members All Experts.

Great Lakes, Ill., Oct. 2.—The proposed Great Lakes Naval Training Station University, for the teaching of seamanship and its allied arts, is assured, as the last of the preparatory branches, the yeoman school, was opened recently.

Fifteen thousand youths are in training at Great Lakes, the largest enrollment of any institution in America. Famous and honored as the seats of learning the world over are, none can compare in size to Uncle Sam's own school at the big naval station. The faculty is unequalled for proficiency in its various lines. The members are all experts in the arts of taking and saving human lives for just as much attention is paid to the embryo gunner's mate as to the hospital apprentice, the business of one is to kill, and the other to save.

The resemblance of Great Lakes to the big universities is perhaps best illustrated in the athletic department. Some fine athletes from Middle Western colleges are members of the football squad and the coaching of the gridiron men is in the hands of Lieutenant Emmett Angell, Assistant Surgeon, U. S. N., with a record of eighteen years collegiate experience. This period covered affiliations with Harvard, Yale, Wisconsin, Oregon Agricultural college and Western Reserve. The baseball squad, under the tutelage of a former big leaguer, Felix Chouinard, is just winding up a successful season. Boxing, wrestling and other sports are in the hands of experts.

Length of Courses Varies.

Special training is given in nine instruction schools on the station. The daily classes are attended by 5,000 men. The length of the courses vary and many bright students qualify in a fraction of the allotted time. To the student "rookie" one of the most attractive branches is the radio school. Two towers, 400 feet high, with power to receive and to transmit messages as far as the Panama canal, enable the students to get practical experience in wireless telegraphy. Three hundred students are graduated every three months in radio. They complete the course in the Naval Reserve Radio School at Harvard University.

One thousand students are attending classes in the hospital school, learning to care for the sick and wounded. Many of the students are university graduates and several are registered physicians. In the medical branch instruction is given in pharmacy, botany, bacteriology, anatomy and first aid to the injured. It is planned to graduate 2,500 students a year.

Another interesting department of the big training depot is the gunnery school. Youths who show aptitude for this highly essential arm of the service are entered for a two months training course. Before they are rated and sent to sea they must be able to take apart and replace guns of every caliber used in the fleet. Sixteen hundred gunners' mates a year will be turned out of this school.

Course is Thoro One.
Uncle Sam will be furnished 1,200 quartermasters each twelve months by the Great Lakes station. There is no connection between a quartermaster in the navy and a man of the same title in the army. The navy man has charge of the steering of the ship and also of signals. This course is thoro and lasts eight months.

Before July 1 next year 1,900 coxswains will have been graduated from the school for the petty officers in charge of small boats. The coxswains' school also gives advanced courses in artillery, signalling, deck and marlinpike seamanship.

A VISITOR FROM OKLAHOMA

R. J. Williamson of El Reno, Oklahoma was a visitor in the city a while yesterday. He had been to Hillview to visit friends there and was on his way east. His home is 28 miles from Oklahoma City and is connected with the latter city by trolley with hourly runs. His immediate locality is in the valley of a river and very productive. He went there in 1889 and followed the calling of butcher for several years and has seen lands and farms that he could have bought of discouraged settlers for a pony or a song sell for from $100 to $200 an acre.

Their chief crop is alfalfa which yields five cuttings a year and about a ton per acre to the cutting and this year they have readily sold the crop at $25 a ton. He is now following farming and has a little patch of 640 acres which keeps him busy. He cut one crop of alfalfa and in exactly four weeks was baling the second crop. They don't have a great deal of rain but the ground in the valley of the river is underlaid with water and alfalfa roots will go down eighteen inches in search of moisture. A strainer tube driven into the ground will supply a well at any time.

Wheat and oats do pretty well there but corn is not a great success owing to the coldness of the nights.

CROSS COUNTRY TOURISTS.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Seider and Mrs. Wm. Gryck of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, arrived in the city Monday on their return from the east. Mr. and Mrs. Seider have two homes, one in the east which they occupy during the summer and one in Oklahoma, where they spend the winter.

PRICES OF TICKETS ARE SENT SKYWARD

SCALPERS DEMANDING HIGH FIGURES FOR WORLD SERIES RESERVATIONS

Speculators Asking $50 for a $5 Box
Seat and $35 for a $1.50 Seat—
White Sox Return Home Today.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—With the arrival
tonight of the first out of town contingent for the world series, the prices of tickets for the three Chicago games were sent skyward by scalpers, who insist they will be able to supply purchasers who failed to get seats thru the regular channels.

Altho the reserved seat tickets
and the box seats will not be distributed to the fortunate purchasers until Thursday, scalpers are accepting deposits on orders and are asking $50 for a $5 box seat for three games
and $35 for grandstand seats which sold for $1.50 each. What system
the speculators are using in their attempt to obtain tickets is puzzling
officials of the Chicago Americans as all tickets are registered and numbered and the applicants will be obliged to call in person for their allotment.

Samuel J. Ettelson, corporation counsel, today joined the fight with President Comiskey of the Chicago club against scalping. Ettelson will confer with Chief of Police Schuettler tomorrow for the purpose of enlisting the aid of the police.

Ettelson said he did not believe the police had power to interfere with scalpers operating in hotels, but he insisted they would be driven off the streets.

He declared that a zone would be created around the baseball park so only ticket holders would be able to get in the entrance.

Purchasers of the 18,000 bleacher
and pavilion seats which will be placed on sale Saturday, will be obliged to pass thru a long wire cage
entering the park after securing their ticket. There will be no turning back. The reason for this is to prevent purchasers from getting tickets and then mingling in the crowd
to re-sell them.

The champion White Sox will return home tomorrow for an exhibition game with the Cleveland club
of the American League. The players will be guests at a banquet tomorrow night given in their honor by the Woodland Bards, an organization composed of President Comiskey's personal friends. Seats for 1,400 persons have been arranged.

William L. Veck, representing the local chapter of the Baseball Writers' association of America announced tonight that tickets for the series requested by newspaper workers would be distributed at Congress Hotel on Friday.

MAURICE WALSH WRITES FROM CAMP TAYLOR

Jacksonville Man to Serve in Ambulance Company—Trip to Camp
Was Hard One—All Local Men
are Together.

Clarence Walsh has received the following letter from his cousin,
Maurice Walsh, who left this city
Sept. 22 for Camp Taylor, Ky., with the Morgan county increment. The young man writes an interesting letter of army life at the training camp.
He has been assigned to ambulance
company No. 4 and says he is well satisfied with the work given him.
The letter follows:

Sept. 29, 1917.

Dear Cousin:
Well, I have put in a week of army life. I don't know much about it yet but from what I have seen it is not so bad. It is nothing like being home with an auto to ride
around in, but it could be worse.
We get pretty good grub and a fair
bed to sleep on. We can live down here and that is all you can do anywhere. The worst of it is you can't go anywhere. But I have made up my mind to be satisfied and I am going to be. All the boys that came from Jacksonville get to stay together, and I tell you that helps some.

That Birthday Cake

We had a pretty hard trip down
here; had to ride all night in a straight back car. Didn't get any sleep. Got here the next morning at 11 o'clock. Didn't have anything to eat from 8 o'clock the night before. They have been putting us fellows thru ever since we came. Got a 15 miles hike Thursday and I won't deny I was tired. My feet
were sore on both sides and on top.
Did not do much today. Always get Wednesday and Saturday afternoon off and all day Sunday. We can't go out of camp until we get our suits. Won't get them until next week. Bill Eads got a birthday cake
today and we are all eating it now.
Tastes pretty good, first I have had since I left home. Bill is a good kid.
The whole bunch are pretty good fellows. There are five Catholics in the company. They have mass in the K. of C. hall every Sunday. Only 100 yards from our barracks. No excuse for not going.

I received the box of puzzles you
sent and am sure glad to get them.
The fellows are having some time
with them. They swear some of them can't be worked. That flash light came in handy already, the light
went out one night and that was all we had. I thank you very much for these things and I will try and do
as much for you some time, but I hope you will not be in my place
when I do it, for it is no place for a married man.

Music all the Time

I am well satisfied with the job
they gave us driving ambulances.
Not so much hard training, don't have to carry any gun. The national guard ones are the ones who have the hard life. We have a happy bunch, have singing and music all
the time when we are not at work.
The only time I have been lonesome
was when we were coming home
from a long hike and I was worn out,
and a big red Mitchell stopped by the side of me. Then I thought of home,
but I made myself forget it. I enjoy it here, it will be a good year's schooling for us all. I will close with love to all.

Your cousin,

Maurice Walsh.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—Contract
for the building of the first cavalry
armory at Chicago was awarded today by the department of public works and buildings to Hansen
Brothers of Chicago for $100,000.
The legislature appropriated $180,- 000 for the structure, which is to be

ALL ATTACKS REPULSED.

London, Oct. 1.—Several heavy attacks were delivered by the Germans today against British positions
north of Ypres and east of the Polygon wood, according to the official communication from British headquarters tonight. All the attacks were repulsed with heavy casualties, except near the southeast corner of the Polygon wood,
where the enemy entered two British advanced posts.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sour, Gassy
Upset Stomach in Five Minutes

You don't know what upset your stomach—which portion of the food
did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset,
and what you just ate has fermented and
turned sour; head dizzy and aches;
belch gases and acids and eructate
undigested food; breath foul, tongue
coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.
Millions of men and women today
know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened,
and they eat their favorite foods
without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care
of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight,
so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Your stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids
neutralized.—Adv.

Warning

We are informed that at some cafes, restaurants
and gardens beer and strong drinks have been sold under the guise of the popular soft drink Bevo.

These reports have been confirmed sufficiently to compel us to take action.

The beverage Bevo enjoys the protection of both federal and state authority. In preparing it for sale and in marketing it, we adopt every possible
precaution to protect the public against imposition and to prevent evasion of the law. Bevo is sold in bottles only, we bottle all of it ourselves,
and we have adopted a kind of bottle, crown and seals designed to prevent imitation.

We shall omit no measure within our power to defend the authority under which Bevo is manufactured and sold, to protect the public from imposition, and to safeguard the good name of this Association.

We therefore give fair warning that we shall refuse
to sell our products to those who are found guilty
of the above offense.

The Crown of Womanhood

"Uncared for hair cannot be beautiful. There is no part of the human makeup so revealing as the hair. It cries out: Look at me, care for me, or I will disgrace you! Treat me with consideration and I will be a glory to you."

With the above words, Lillian Russell, an unquestioned authority on feminine attractiveness, places no uncertain value on nice hair as a beauty asset. Unkept, uncared for hair not only cannot be attractive but is actually a disgrace.

But why have ill-kept, untidy hair? By devoting a few moments regularly to brushing and intelligent application of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, the hair may be made to yield wonderful returns in increased personal charm.

Dandruff is the direct cause of more hair trouble than anything else. The hair becomes thin, harsh, uneven and falls out in quantities. It looks dead and lifeless; there is no luster. The scalp itches.

HERPICIDE will remove the dandruff which is causing all the trouble, clean the scalp, give the hair life, snap and luxuriance. The hair stops coming out, the itching ceases almost at once and withal there is a most gratifying sense of cleanliness.

To the woman who wishes to make the most of nature's gifts by having fluffy, beautiful hair, NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE is a toilet necessity. It is exquisitely perfumed and is a delightful hair dressing.

In 50c and $1.00 sizes. At drug stores and toilet goods counters everywhere. Guaranteed by The Herpicide Co.

Applications at the better Barber Shops and Hair-Dressing Parlors. Send 10 cents for sample bottle and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

Duty Demands Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ill health. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance and buoyancy. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pectoral and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay fit, course and drive it off.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor spreads and weakness grows and a seemingly strong man or woman oftentimes becomes a prey to ill health.

You will not find this class of persons in the hypoferrin ranks. No unhealthy, dull, drab, drooping persons in that line. It is a hale, hearty, robust aggregation of quick-steppers who view life in a joyous frame of mind and are mentally and physically equal to any emergency. Hypoferrin stands for sound body and sound mind—it is the invigorating tonic of the times—powerful and unsurpassed as a health restorer, vitalizer and health preserver. Fight to hold the vigor of a sound body with hypoferrin or to stay the process of decay and restore health and strength—you win. This tonic of amazing, wonder-working properties has been approved by physicians as a restorer and safeguard of health.

It is a thoroughly scientific preparation of the very elements necessary to tone up the stomach and nerves, to build strong, vital tissue, make pure blood, firm flesh and solid, active, tireless muscles.

SUGGESTIONS FOR AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

List of "Safety First" Rules Issued By Office of Secretary of State—Should Know Motor Vehicle Law and Observe It.

William F. Barnes, a representative of the office of Secretary of State L. E. Emmerson, who has spent some time in the city recently, has called special attention to the following suggestions to automobile drivers:

"Safety first," safety always, auto owners. Obey the laws, avoid the courts. Within ten days after you purchase an automobile, the law requires you to have a license for the same. The minimum fine for driving your car without a license is $25.00.

The law requires you to conspicuously display license plates on the front and rear of your automobile. If you lose one, get a duplicate. This is necessary for everybody's safety.

If you operate an automobile as a mechanic or employee, or if you operate an automobile for hire or for pecuniary profit, the law requires you to be registered as a chauffeur. If you operate a car as a chauffeur without a license, you will be fined $25.00.

Do not employ anyone as a chauffeur who is not specially licensed as such. If you do, you are liable to a fine of $100.00.

If you are registered as a chauffeur, be sure and wear your badge pinned on your clothing in a conspicuous place, as is required by law.

Any person using a fictitious chauffeur's license or badge is liable to a fine of $25.00.

Any chauffeur or other person having the care of a motor vehicle, who takes any consideration for the purchase of supplies, parts or work, for said vehicle, may be fined $200.00 and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of six months.

No person shall operate an automobile or motorcycle without the consent of the owner. A fine of $200.00 and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of six months may be imposed.

If you drive your car after night, without lights, you are liable to a fine of not less than $10.00.

Do not exceed the speed limit. If you do, you may be fined $200.00. Racing on the public highways is prohibited by law. You will be fined $200.00 if convicted on this charge.

Do not attach a "license" pulled for" card to your automobile. There is no provision made in the law for the use of such card and will not assist you in getting by the officers.

The law makes no provision for the use of any license plates except those which are furnished by the secretary of state. You may be fined $25.00 if you use a fictitious license plate.

It is dangerous as well as unlawful to allow any part of the machinery of your motor vehicle to run while it is left standing without an attendant. A fine of $25.00 is provided for the violation of this section of the law.

If you sell your car, be sure to remove the license plates and file statement of change of ownership. This is for your protection and releases you of the responsibility when the car is driven by the new owner.

If you are convicted of violating the same section of the law twice, your license may be revoked by the secretary of state.

The license of any chauffeur who drives an automobile, while intoxicated, will be revoked.

It pays big to be careful and cautious. It pays to observe the law. It is your duty to know the speed ordinance of cities and villages. If you don't, take no chances.

The most effective cure for recklessness and irresponsible driving is a prosecution under the law. Owners owe it to themselves and to the public to aid in bringing the law breaker into court.

Road the motor vehicle law and observe it. Ignorance of the law is no excuse. It is your duty to know it and observe it.

Test your brakes every morning. Be considerate of other motorists. When in doubt, go slow or stop. Better to cause a delay than an accident.

Go slow when—Passing children. Passing vehicles. Approaching crossings. Turning corners. Stop—At railway crossings.

When a pedestrian becomes confused in front of you. Behind standing street cars. Use chains on slippery pavements. Don't allow children to operate your car. It is inexcusable. To do so might amount to criminal negligence.

In all matters requiring decision of judgment, take the safe course. "Safety first" always.

The "Law of the Road" is the law of the land in Illinois. Keep to the

Lemon Juice For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

right and pass to the right of vehicles going in the opposite direction. Signal and pass on the left of another vehicle going in the same direction.

Upon signal from another vehicle approaching from the rear, pull to the right and allow it to pass. Signal to vehicles in the rear before slowing down or stopping on the public highway.

"Safety first" is not a slogan; only a practical demand for the greatest care. Do you wish to encourage the "safety first" movement? You can best do so by observing the law and insisting on others doing so.

She was educated at the Princess School, Carlisle, and was taught not only the ordinary branches of learning, but the culinary art, and she now at times does a cook's attire and makes some of the dishes of which King Gustav is especially fond.

CLUBHOUSE IN LONDON FOR U. S. BLUEJACKETS

Americans in London Provide Shore Home for Men of Destroyer Flotilla—Is Strictly Up-to-Date in All Appointments.

BASE AMERICAN FLOTILLA IN BRITISH WATERS, Sept. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press) — Twenty thousand dollars given by Americans in London has been spent in providing a shore home for the American bluejackets in the destroyer flotilla used in this port. Its correct name is the United States Naval Men's Clubhouse.

It probably is the most cheerful spot in town for it combines everything to make the American sailor as happy and contented as he can be thousands of miles from home.

If it had been built in the United States this shore home could not combine many more of the characteristic American features of up-to-dateness and cleanliness. It is steam-heated throughout, an almost unheard of luxury in this country, and it boasts a restaurant that would make some of the leading American restaurants green with envy.

It spells comfort to the sailor who brings his British tar friend there with a display of pride.

The cooking is done in full view of the diners on huge gas ranges of the most modern type. There is also a grill. A feature is a quick lunch counter patterned after those so popular in American cities. In two large coffee urns is made the best of that beverage to be had in the port. There is some call for cocoa but not much for tea. The culinary department is in charge of a commissary steward from the flotilla tender.

There is a piano player, two gramophones, and on special occasions a string orchestra from the flotilla tender. There are two dormitories in the clubhouse containing altogether 75 beds designed to accommodate that many men ashore on overnight liberty. These accommodations can easily be increased to 100.

There never has been adequate sleeping accommodation in the private homes ashore.

Adjoining the dormitory wings is a tiled bathroom equipped with six shower baths of the newest design. Heavy white porcelain wash basins and other fixtures of the same material help to give the place a clean substantial appearance. In one corner is a series of steam pipes for drying clothing and just outside this room are linen closets where clean clothing is kept.

In another part of the house two American pool tables enable the bluejackets to improve their skill with the cue. For the more studious there are several reading rooms equipped with a library donated by a British society. Reading matter, such as newspapers and magazines are also sent to the men from London, but there are not enough to satisfy the sailors' wants and they complain of an absence of reading material from America. To fill this want a movement is under way to interest Americans at home in sending old magazines and books to the men. These can be forwarded thru the American Embassy in London.

In the concert hall feature of the club opened nearly two months ago moving pictures and vaudeville by talent from the ships continue to entertain the men every Saturday night. Last week many of the men saw themselves in the movies, the pictures being those of the arrival of the first destroyer flotilla. Their officers always attend these shows and invariably bring along British officers with whom they are co-operating so successfully in the business of hunting the elusive submarine.

OIL COIL

An Unusual Opportunity

Are you ready to fall in line and help produce more oil?

We produce more oil to keep things moving.

The latest government report (official) from Washington, D. C., gives out the alarming facts, that the U. S. has consumed 38 million more barrels of oil than we produced during the year just closed. The latest bulletin says develop the oil fields, and produce more oil.

We are going to do it! In order to help increase the supply of oil we have just organized The Princess Helen Oil Co., of Muskogee, Okla. We are going to give you a chance to help, and an opportunity to make a fortune. Thousands have invested in oil stock in Oklahoma and struck it rich. Why not you?

We offer you for quick action, one hundred (100) shares of stock at $25.00 per share, in this new Corporation, which is capitalized for only $10,000.00, divided into 400 shares of non-assessable stock.

We have 700 acres of Oil and Gas leases, in a territory which has been carefully gone over by our Geologist and Oil locator, who has had 40 years experience in the Pennsylvania Oil Fields.

He says, after carefully looking over thousands of acres in Oklahoma, that this is the best place to develop Oil.

Gas has been struck on a lease adjoining our holdings, also oil on two sides of our property. We believe that we are going to open up a big field and expect to strike it rich.

We have a drilling outfit on the ground, and by the time this is in press we will be spudding for oil on our holdings.

Remember your stock carries with it an interest in every well that is drilled on the 700 acres by the Princess Helen Oil Co.

You buy the stock at rock bottom prices, get in on the ground floor; pay the same as the president and other stock holders in the company.

Every dollar of the money will be spent to the best interest of the stockholders. No commissions, no salaries to any officer of the company, until on a paying basis. You never had a better chance to get in on a square deal in the oil business than this.

The Muskogee Daily Phoenix, of Sept. 16th, says $200.00 invested in oil stock less than a month ago, was sold for $2,000.00.

The Company that sold this stock has only 40 acre lease and struck a forty barrel well. We have 700 acres of just as likely territory and we expect to make a better strike.

Our Officers and Directors are all successful business men who know the oil business, and we feel sure of success.

We invite you to come and join us. Do not delay, act quick, as we positively will offer you no more of this stock when the hundred shares are sold.

WORKER WITH REVIVAL PARTY BEGINS WORK

Miss Mary A. Robertson Arrived in the City Yesterday—Will Meet Workers Today—Mass Meeting at Centenary Tonight.

Miss Mary A. Robertson of the Hanly Tisher Evangelistic party arrived in the city yesterday afternoon coming on the Burlington from Glenwood, Minn., where a tabernacle meeting is still in progress. Miss Robertson is a sister-in-law of Dr. Hanly and has been associated with him in evangelistic work for three years. Her special work is among the women and high school girls. She is a graduate of the High School and University and is regarded as exceptionally successful in her efforts. She is a fluent speaker and conducts special meetings for women and girls while Dr. Hanly addresses the men.

Miss Robertson is very popular with students and she seems to know just how to appeal to them. In such a student center as Jacksonville she will have unusual opportunities to come in touch with the young people of the colleges and to work with them. Under her direction the neighborhood prayer meetings already so well begun will be maintained and increased.

This morning at 9:30 she will meet all the captains of Group D., of which Rev. E. B. Landis is superintendent at the home of Mrs. W. E. Spoons, 332 S. Diamond St. To this half hour meeting all interested in the prayer meetings of this group are urged to attend.

Fred Darr of the Decorating Committee asks all who can contribute flags or bunting for the church during the revival meetings please phone him at 1559 Illinois. He will call for the material.

The choir platform will be completed Wednesday evening and all material for decoration should be available before that time.

Following the luncheon at Centenary church this evening at 7:30 for the men and women of Centenary and all the ministers of the co-operating churches a union mass meeting will be held in the auditorium at 7:30.

PNEUMONIA CAUSED ROY JACKSON'S DEATH.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson have received no further information about the death of their son, Roy Jackson, at Havre, Mont., other than the statement that he died from pneumonia. Mr. Jackson, who had been for a number of years an employee of the Great Northern, was evidently taken suddenly with pneumonia and died at Sacred Heart hospital in Havre. Brief funeral services were held at the chapel of Holland & Son and the remains have been sent to this city for interment.

PAINS SHARP AND STABBING

Woman Thought She Would
Die. Cured by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ogdensburg, Wis.—"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ERRA DORION, Ogdensburg, Wis.
Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

REPORT ON OPEN AIR SCHOOL MADE

Delay in Building Work Explained to Board of Education—New Rule For Teachers Who are Absent.

At the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night officers reports were presented and the main facts contained therein are given below. Some matters discussed at the meeting and not previously reported are also mentioned herewith.

In regard to the open air school Supt. Perrin said there was an erroneous impression in the minds of many regarding the school. They seemed to think it was a kind of a place for charity sake and meant for the poor and children afflicted with contagious diseases which is far from the fact. The school is simply a place, not for a moment to harbor children suffering with anything contagious but for those of delicate constitutions or hereditary tendencies who need special building up. As far as he was concerned he said he wished there were plenty more of them in the city; he would be glad to have his children go there. The school is managed on sound principles and the ladies in charge are peculiarly successful in their work and in many cases the physical as well as the mental benefits to the children have been very encouraging to all.

The following resolution was adopted:—
Any teacher or employee of the city who is absent from the post of duty without conferring with the superior officer or superintendent and receiving written permission to be away, the absence shall be construed as a resignation immediately and the secretary shall be instructed to make out a pay check for the person or teacher up to the time of said absence.

The health department reported 9 school visits; co-operative agencies 6; doctors' offices; homes visited 8; found one suffering from skin trouble; three pulmonary; 2 contagious suspects; others none; contagious inspections 3; others 3; hours at clinic 6; examined by temperature and weight 18. The case of an epileptic child was reported. He was very bad and had been removed from school.

The matter of the open air school building was brought up. The removal of the building and placing it on a foundation had been let to Mr. Ball with the supposition that all would be satisfactory and that union labor would be employed. He had moved the building and had let the foundation to a union bricklayer who was not a union man and owing to that fact union carpenters, plumbers, plasterers, painters, all of whom would be needed on the building refused to work on it and all attempts at satisfactory adjustment failed. The architect that he could find non-union men who would go ahead and complete the job and he was instructed to do so with all possible speed.

FOOK LONG STILL GETTING PACKAGES

Fook Long, proprietor of the Wah Lee Laundry at 210 North Main street received a package of laundry thru the mail Tuesday that upon investigation proved to be loaded with red dye.

Fook Long has received several packages recently filled with dye and has suffered a money loss in consequence. Naturally he is suspicious of any bundle that comes to him from unknown sources. When he received the bundle Tuesday morning and opened it he found three size 14 collars and a pair of cuffs. He placed the articles in a separate receptacle and poured water over them and it turned a deep red.

The police were notified Tuesday evening and Sergeant Kiloran and Patrolman Baker went to the laundry and made an investigation. The wrapper on the package was taken to the police station. It contains two two cent stamps and one one cent stamp. There is nothing to indicate where the package was mailed. The cuffs bear the initials R. E. V. A thoro investigation of the affair will be made and tho the clue is slight the police hope to be able to get some results that will lead to the apprehension of the guilty party.

COPPER CLAD RANGE DEMONSTRATION.

Edward Phalen is in the city renewing his many acquaintances and conducting a copper clad range exhibition or demonstration at the store of Andre & Andre, Biscuits and coffee are served hot from the fire and good demonstration of a useful household article is made.

Joseph Northcott and family, and Samuel Northcott, wearing the khalil, and hailing from Fort Thomas, Ky., all rode to the city yesterday in Mr. Northcott's Ford car.

DON'T KNOW WHERE HE STANDS

Manuel E. Comacho who a short time ago secured a marriage license and sent it to Portugal in order to marry his heart's choice by mail is in a quandary. It is not, however, about the ultimate outcome of his long distance marriage.

When Comacho decided to get married he also decided to enlist in the United States navy. He has been in this country for six years and told a Journal reporter last night that he had secured his first naturalization papers in Edwardsville.

Yesterday he went to Springfield to enlist in the navy and was told that in order to enlist he would have to have his second naturalization papers. Comacho was greatly disappointed at not being able to join the colors. Now he is wondering just what his status is in this country. He has registered and if he is refused admission to the navy when he tries to enlist voluntarily he is at loss to know what will be done if he is called and passes the physical examination for National Army service.

MACCABEES DEDICATE HOME

Port Huron, Mich. Oct. 2.—The dedication here today of the magnificent new building erected as headquarters for the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was made occasion for the most notable celebration in the history of Port Huron. The occasion attracted more than ordinary attention from the fact that the building is said to be the most imposing structure of its kind in the country built and financed by women. The dedication exercises were attended by Governor Sleeper and his staff, together with hundreds of members of the Maccabees from all sections of the country and representatives of numerous other fraternal organizations. The exercises included a notable tribute to Miss Bina M. West, who founded the association twenty-five years ago.

Springfield, O. Oct. 2.—"War" babies, the proper handling of slackers, the care of soldiers' dependents, and other social problems arising from the war are to be discussed by the Ohio State Conference of Charities and Corrections at its annual meeting which opened here today. Governor Cox and a number of other prominent speakers are to be heard during the three days' sessions.

DEDICATION AT ROCHESTER.

Rochester, N. Y. Oct. 2.—Representatives of numerous trade and commercial bodies thruout the country have arrived in Rochester to attend the dedication and opening of the new Chamber of Commerce in this city. The dedication will extend over a period of several days and will include among its features a general conference on business problems arising from the war.

LYNNVILLE RED CROSS IS DOING GOOD WORK

Society Held Enthusiastic Meeting Tuesday Evening—Has Raised a Total of $121.78 for the Purchase of Raw Materials—Three Men of Precinct Leave for Service Soon.

The Lynnville auxiliary of the Red Cross held an enthusiastic meeting in the M. E. church Tuesday evening that was largely attended. There was a banquet for the young men who expect to leave soon for Camp Taylor. These men are Edwin Gordon, Raymond Gordon and William Gorman.

Fred J. Scholfield, president of the Lynnville Red Cross, was chairman of the evening and proved the right man in the right place. By his congenial manner and hustling qualities he has aroused great interest in the movement in this community. W. E. Rawlings created much enthusiasm when he offered to donate $50 to the Red Cross Society if the assemblage would raise a like amount. The challenge was accepted and the total amount raised was $109.17. This makes a total of $121.78 raised since the organization of the knitting society last Friday night. This money will be used to purchase raw materials to be used by the ladies in knitting and making other garments for the soldiers.

A spirit of patriotism and fealty was revealed in remarks of the various speakers. During the evening splendid music was furnished by the Lynnville orchestra. Those who addressed the gathering were: Mrs. Richard Adams, teacher of the knitting society; Rev. L. R. Cronkhite, Rev. Mr. Haas, W. E. Rawlings and C. H. Gibbs.

Dewey O'Conner, Leo Lutz and Hollis Finley have returned to Springfield after a pleasant visit with Jacksonville friends.

For Tired Women With Aching Heads

"They help me so much and I find relief as soon as I begin taking your Foley Kidney Pills." Mrs. Frank P. Wood, Morrill, Maine, R. F. D. No. 2.
Sometimes it seems as if you can't stand the pain across your back. It is just making your life miserable and robbing you of all energy and strength. When you are constantly tired, head always aching, nerves "on edge," kidney action painful and burning, then is the time to start in at once on Foley Kidney Pills.
They strengthen the weak, ailing kidneys, improve their action, enable them to throw off the poisons that cause your trouble. Your nerves grow peaceful, sleep becomes sounder, nervous headaches disappear. As Mrs. Wood says: "I find relief as soon as I begin to take your Foley Kidney Pills." Be sure you get the genuine Foley Kidney Pills, for they are purely medicinal and contain no harmful drugs.

DR. R. F. THRAPP TO GO TO NEW CHARGE AT SEATTLE

Former Jacksonville Pastor Will End Work in Los Angeles at Early Date—Church Has for Months Been Trying to Secure His Services

Jacksonville friends of Rev. R. F. Thrapp will be interested in the announcement that he recently resigned his ministry in Los Angeles and will become pastor of a Christian church at Seattle, Wash. The resignation will be effective Oct. 14. It seems that the Seattle church has for several months been endeavoring to secure Dr. Thrapp's services but that he was unwilling to go until the Billy Sunday campaign planned for Los Angeles had been completed.

The Los Angeles Times gives the following notice of Dr. Thrapp's plans: Dr. Russell F. Thrapp, for the past six years pastor of the First Christian Church, Eleventh and Hope streets, yesterday morning presented to his congregation his resignation, to take effect October 14.

Dr. Thrapp will become pastor of the First Christian Church of Seattle immediately upon leaving the Los Angeles pastorate. The Seattle church is the leading one of its denomination in the Northwest. Officers of the church began correspondence with Dr. Thrapp last March, and a committee was sent from the northern city to interview him here.

On account of the approaching Billy Sunday campaign, he refused to consider the call at that time, but the Seattle congregation renewed negotiations in August. Dr. Thrapp was so impressed with the opportunity offered him that he finally accepted the call. As one of the stipulations, the Seattle church has agreed to erect a $100,000 church edifice.

Dr. Thrapp has been a prominent figure in the work of the Christian church through Southern California. He has served as president of the Church Federation, chairman of the Headquarters Committee of the Anti-Saloon League, has been a director of the Southern California Missionary Society, and has been closely connected with civic and religious work in the city.

During his pastorate here he has received about 200 members per year at the regular church services, and the church has made advancement along all lines of endeavor. The work of Dr. Thrapp has been greatly supplemented by that of his wife, who is a prominent church singer.

It is probable that the official body of the First Christian church will take early steps to select a successor to Dr. Thrapp, as it is felt that with the Billy Sunday campaign stirring up the churches, and increasing their membership, a permanent pastorate is required.

BANKERS WILL DISCUSS FARM ADVISOR PROJECT

Meeting of Jacksonville Clearing House Called for This Morning for Conference.

A meeting of the Jacksonville clearing house will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Elliott State bank to consider the proposition of assisting in the work of securing a farm advisor for Morgan county. The matter was presented to all local bankers recently by Sidney Smith of Sangamon county, who is a representative of the government in the work of extending crop improvement associations. Frank Elliott, president of the clearing house, has called the meeting and the bankers will informally discuss the project.

As agriculture and animal husbandry are so closely related to the banking business in this community it is quite natural that the bankers should be interested in any plan purposing to better farm conditions. At the present time the movement is being fostered by the government not only to improve farm conditions but as a war question, since it is very desirable to have all farm production brought up to the highest standard of efficiency. Mr. Smith, it is understood, will come to Jacksonville Friday and will be taken to Winchester by LeRoy Potter to talk with bankers and farmers in Scott county. Saturday Mr. Smith will be in Jacksonville to address the meeting of farmers which will be called for Saturday afternoon.

MISS OLMSTED IN ROUMANIA.

Jacksonville friends of Miss Katherine Olmsted will be interested in knowing that she is now in Roumania engaged in Red Cross work. Mention was made some time since that Miss Olmsted had offered her services but the date of her leaving for Europe was not made known. From all accounts received the need for the Red Cross workers in Roumania is as crying as in Belgium and France.

PREPARE SOLDIERS' KITS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Red Cross Society Inaugurates Plan to Have Packages Ready By October 15th.

Joining with the nation wide movement of the Red Cross society women of the local chapter are inaugurating a special campaign to secure soldiers' kits to be ready for shipment to the soldiers Oct. 15. A very special drive will be made to secure these soldiers' packages by Oct. 15, so that they may be sent abroad in time to reach the soldiers before Christmas. By using this date for shipment it is expected that the packages can be delivered to the men in training camps or cantonments by Dec. 1. A Christmas package number of the Red Cross bulletin gives the following facts about the movement:

These packages are designed to meet with the antidote of holiday good cheer, that deadly camp disease called "homesickness," which has been said to carry off more men than bullets during the great war.

Let the boys of trench and fleet imagine that the home folks have forgotten them, the Red Cross plans to extend the hand of Christmas greeting to as many individuals among the fighting forces as it has workers in the big reserve army which it has mustered for their relief. The sending of these packages is in no sense compulsory to Red Cross workers, but is merely a channel which the organization opens for them to express their fellowships known to mankind, in order that their dearest at home may be kept from suffering.

Must Show Appreciation

It should be evident that if our soldiers' valiant spirit is to remain unbroken, it must meet with apparent appreciation from the ones for whose benefit it is generated. Soldiers who remain long away from home are apt to grow morbid under the monotonous discipline and privations of army life. Habits of mind are set up which often have disastrous results. Insanity is on the increase among troops abroad, men being shipped from the front by the train load, suffering from the mental ravages of the war. The soldier who goes insane sees too much of life's most horrible side—too little of its brighter, cheering element. Next to supplying the men of the army and navy with knitted garments and comfort bags, surely the best thing the people at home can do for them is to provide them with entertainment, luxuries if you will, such as may be included in limited form in these Christmas packages.

The Red Cross hopes that when its members go a-shopping for Christmas, a trifling amount of money may be devoted to the present for the boy at the front, who is giving his all, in order that such a one as you, and you, and you may have the privilege of making these very gifts at Christmas.

Inexpensive Gifts

It will cost but little to get together a few little things, such as a box of writing paper and envelopes (unstamped), a package of cigarettes, a cheap game, mouth organ or even marbles, a scrap book filled with humorous or interesting pictures, a little candy, a puzzle perhaps, to take the mind of the soldier who, remember, is but a boy, off the dreadful business of war for the time being. These are merely suggestions, as almost anything may be included in the holiday bundles that is inexpensive and of light weight. It should not be forgotten that facilities for shipping are limited, and bulky articles must be eliminated.

The packages may be tied up in a bandanna or a khaki colored handkerchief, perhaps with a sprig of artificial holly at the top, its bright red berries expressing a bit of the warmth that exists for its recipient in the heart of the giver. Or they may be included in a bag made of as brilliant cretonne as you like, tied up with Christmas ribbon through which is thrust a card bearing the name of the giver and a cheery holiday greeting. Be sure the soldier boy who gets the gift will respond with a hearty message of appreciation, which will be one of your treasured souvenirs after the war is over.

The Work of Children

Some of the school children of this city are making Christmas bags for the soldiers out of crimson sateen or drilling, on which is applied a green Christmas tree cut from the same material. These bags are artistic and considered especially desirable by the Committee on Comforts for Fighting Men, which is collecting the Christmas packages and will forward them to the soldiers when enough have been accumulated to make a respectable showing for the Chicago Chapter. Instructions for making these bags may be had by applying to your nearest auxiliary or to the Comfort Shops at 601 Tower Building.

Auxiliaries who may desire information about the financing of this project should understand that these bags are designed merely to express the Christmas spirit of individuals, and should be purchased separately with that idea in mind, though forwarded in the usual Red Cross manner.

The Red Cross would like to send such a package to every enlisted man in the whole great fighting force of the nation, and feels that the disappointment of the unfortunate man who is left out would be little short of tragic.

Who wants to be a "good fellow" this year to the fellow on the fighting line?

MEN AT CAMP TAYLOR IN DAILY DRILLS

Louis P. Hauck Writes Interestingly of Each Day's Routine—Hiking Important Part of Program—More Praise for Y. M. C. A.

Louis P. Hauck, until recently draft clerk at the Ayers National Bank, is one of the Mergan county men now at Camp Taylor. In a recent letter sent to M. F. Dunlap, president of the Ayers National, Mr. Hauck writes in an interesting way of life at Camp Taylor. The men are called at 5:45 every morning and work and drills occupy the time until 6 p. m. Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and Sundays they have to themselves. Thus far "hiking" has had an important place in the drill work. Like almost all other soldiers who write of cantonment life, Mr. Hauck speaks enthusiastically of the army Y. M. C. A. He says that without this institution the question of entertainment for the soldiers would indeed be a serious problem. The letter follows:

Sept. 26, 1917.
The Ayers National Bank,
Jacksonville, Ill.
Dear Friends:

Just a general letter to everybody as no doubt you are all anxious to learn how I and the rest of the boys are getting along. I trust you can read this as I haven't any table and am up in our barracks making a small suit case do for one.

We have nothing to do on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons nor Sunday. They are going to measure us for uniforms this afternoon so we have to stay close to our barracks.

This paper being furnished gratis by the Y. M. C. A. and cannot be bought from them, I will be economical and use both sides. There are seven "Y" buildings in the camp and at one of them, the man in charge told me that one day over four thousand pieces of mail were sent out from his building alone.

Many Visitors at Camp

There were many visitors here Sunday while I was down at the Y. M. C. A. A bunch of soldiers gathered around the piano and gave us some music. A couple of them have real good voices and sang several solos. The visitors having come in and filled the room, quite a little enthusiasm was created and every number was applauded. We would be very much lost after supper if it was not for the Y. M. C. A. Sunday night the chaplain of the camp gave the boys a real good talk.

There is something doing every night at the "Y." Last night they had moving pictures and if you did not get a seat near the front your chance was somewhat slim to see anything but parts of the picture now and then. You got almost as much enjoyment out of the remarks of the boys, which were confined mostly to comments that were given to them by the officers during the day when at drill or on a "hike." Sometimes a little "rough stuff," as they say, was let out but you can't expect anything else from a crowd like that which has been assembled from every walk of life.

In Temporary Barracks

The barracks we are in are only temporary and we will go to our own in a day or two. We are in an ambulance company and probably will not have to do real fighting but there will be a great deal of risk as it is, provided we go to the battle fields.

There are twenty to twenty-five thousand men here now and the camp looks like a good sized city. When we first arrived they marched us about a mile or more to the barracks we are in now and we were given a mess-kit, bed tick and two blankets, also an iron cot. We were then taken to a pile of straw, where we filled the ticks, bringing them in to the barracks and putting them on the cots, then adjusting the straw to suit our own comfort.

The mess kit consists of a combination mess pan, which is actually two pans, made of heavy plated tin, a large granite cup, knife, fork and spoon. The meals have been pretty good but of course the boys miss home cooking. However, I suppose we will all get used to this kind of a life. Immediately after each meal each one washes his own kit. The method is a little crude but nevertheless we keep them as clean as possible, and of course everyone needs only to be mindful of his own.

No doubt the expert housewife would very much disapprove the manner in which we do things. Yesterday morning we went on a short "hike." We probably covered three or four miles there and back, drilling a little on the way. In the afternoon we returned, gave us a talk on keeping ourselves clean, being honest, letting booze alone, etc.

There is quite severe punishment for being drunk or bringing booze into camp.

Great Rush at Meal Time

Our first call in the morning is at 5:45 and we assemble at 6:00 for a few minutes' drill. Immediately after drill we have breakfast and the boys try to pick out a place in the line which will get them to the "eat" first. There is always a rush at meal time.

This morning we went out on another hike with a bunch of men from out East who have been here about a month.

About a mile or so from camp we were turned over to the Eastern men who gave us instructions and put us through a little drill work, the captains and sergeant looking on. About eleven o'clock we returned to camp. I might say a word before I close about the trip from Jacksonville to camp.

We got along fine, getting supper at East St. Louis, the train though was about an hour and twenty minutes late. Mr. Eads and I got the boys back to the car again O. K. and their good behavior made our duty easy. They deserve much credit and we appreciate it. We all arrived safely at camp and are getting along fine.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE DISCUSSED PLANS.

The Membership campaign committee of the Y. M. C. A. fall campaign met at the association building Tuesday evening to arrange for the work of solicitation. A splendid fried chicken dinner was served by Mrs. Charles B. Graff, chairman of the Woman's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A.

There was a good representation of the members of the various teams. Following the dinner the plan of campaign was discussed and the list of expiring memberships was gone over and divided among the four teams.

The captains of the four teams are, Rev. M. L. Pontius, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Rev. Walter E. Spoons and William G. Goebel. Mayor Rodgers is absent in Chicago attending a Y. M. C. A. conference and Joshua Vasconcellos will act temporarily as captain of the Rodgers team.

The committee expects to make an special drive Thursday, Friday and Saturday to secure the necessary members. It is estimated that the membership must be boosted to 500 in order to give the necessary funds for operation. This means that practically 300 names must be secured.

The association has a pamphlet that contains some interesting facts about the Y. M. C. A. and its work. It would pay every citizen to secure this pamphlet and read it carefully. By so doing it will undoubtedly give the average citizen a new viewpoint of the organization and what it is endeavoring to accomplish.
